Rayvue Professional Epilation Unit

The Rayvue Professional Solid State Epilation Unit is designed and built in Australia for the permanent removal of superfluous facial and body hair. The robust construction ensures reliability and durability. From the metal case and handpiece which you will rely on, to the heavy duty power supply and hand wound coil that you will probably never see, the Epilation unit will work for you into the next decade and more. This unit is designed for the professional who wants quality.
